In re Patent No. 6,838,273 : CORRECTED
Suerbaum et al. : DECISION ON REQUEST FOR Issue Date: January 4, 2005 : RECONSIDERATION OF Application No. 09/015,078 : PATENT TERM ADJUSTMENT
Filed: January 29, 1998 : and
Atty Docket No. 2356-0073-01 : NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE
: CERTIFICATE OF CORRECTION

This is in response to the NOTICE OF ERROR IN THE DETERMINATION OF PATENT TERM ADJUSTMENT filed March 4, 2005. Patentees disclose that the revised patent term adjustment indicated on the patent should be thirteen (13) days not one hundred eighty-four (184) days.

As discussed herein, this corrected decision is written to revise the previous decision to remove entry of a period of reduction of 109 days and to correct the revised patent term adjustment from 0 days to 68 days.

The request for correction of the revised patent term adjustment indicated on the patent is GRANTED to the extent indicated herein.

The patent term adjustment indicated in the patent is to be corrected by issuance of a certificate of correction showing a revised Patent Term Adjustment of sixty-eight (68) days.

On January 4, 2005, the application matured into U.S. Patent No. 6,838,273, with a revised patent term adjustment of 184 days. On March 4, 2005, patentees timely submitted this request for reconsideration of patent term adjustment (with required fee), asserting that the correct number of days of Patent Term Adjustment is 13 days, given that the patent issued on January 4, 2005.

It was previously determined that a review of the application history reveals that periods of reduction of 109 days and 87 days (in place of a reduction of 34 days) should be entered. However, upon further review, it is determined that a period of reduction of 109 days pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.704(c)(7) should not be entered for patentees' filing of a paper on December 10, 2001, correcting an omission in their response filed 109 days earlier on August 23, 2001. See Communication mailed November 15, 2001. A further review reveals that the paper filed December 10, 2001 disputed that there was any omission in the response filed August 23, 2001. Furthermore, the Office proceeded with examination of the application without any further filing in response to the communication mailed November 15, 2001.

The previous decision was correct that pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.704(b), a reduction of 87 days, not 34 days, should be entered for patentees' taking until November 14, 2003, to file a Notice of Appeal in response to the final Office action mailed May 19, 2003. The response after final Office action filed September 22, 2003 was not in compliance with § 1.113(c) and thus, should not have been used in calculating the period of reduction.

Further, 37 CFR § 1.703(a) provides in pertinent part that:

The period of adjustment under § 1.702(a) is the sum of the following periods:

(3) The number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the day after the date that is four months after the date a reply in compliance with § 1.113(c) was filed and ending on the date of mailing of either an action under 35 U.S.C. 132, or a notice of allowance under 35 U.S.C. 151, whichever occurs first;

As the Office action filed September 22, 2003 was not in compliance with § 1.113(c), the entry of a period of adjustment of 63 days is incorrect. A review of the record reveals no basis for concluding that the mailing of a Notice of Allowance on March 25, 2004 constituted examination delay within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 154(b). The entry of the period of adjustment of 63 days has been removed.

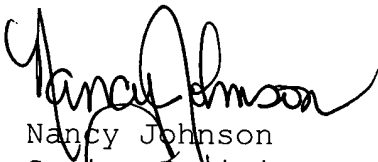

Although patentees state that they are only entitled to 13 days of patent term adjustment, a review of the record reveals no further basis for reduction. It is specifically noted that Office records show that the Issue Fee payment was received on June 24, 2004, within three months of the mailing of the Notice of Allowance mailed March 25, 2004. Thus, there is no basis for entry of a period of reduction in association with this filing.

In view thereof, the correct determination of PTA is sixty-eight (68) days.

As this letter was submitted as an advisement to the Office of an error in Patentees' favor, the Office will not assess the $200.00 fee under 37 CFR 1.18(e). The Office thanks patentees for their good faith and candor in bringing this to the attention of the Office.

The application file is being forwarded to the Certificates of Correction Branch for issuance of a certificate of correction in order to rectify this error. The Office will issue a certificate of correction indicating that the term of the above-identified patent is extended or adjusted by sixty-eight (68) days.

Telephone inquiries specific to this matter should be directed to the undersigned at (571) 272-3219.
